

Don't Do It Video Segment – IDENTITY THEFT

You're you.

Original. Singular.

But there are people who would like to impersonate you.

To steal your identity.

So they can spend your money.

Malware is the key to identity theft.

And it's waiting for victims in the sketchier corners of the internet.

Like where television and film are too cheap to be trusted.

Which means likely stolen.

And risky.

Protect yourself.

Pirated content?

Don't do it.
